

SPELLOGRAPHY

Book C, Unit 16

Supplemental Activities

Print out the student pages for these supplemental activities, as needed, to reinforce the following Spellography concepts:

Lesson 1 (page 2)

Mean It

Provide more practice with open syllable prefixes and word meanings.

Lesson 2.3 (page 3)

Homophone Heaven

Provide additional review of confusable words.

OPTIONAL: Use this supplemental activity following "Prefixes with the Sound /e/" instructional text in Lesson 1 of Unit 16 for more practice with open syllable prefixes and word meanings.

Mean It

- Investigate both meaning and usage for the prefixes be-, e-, pre-, and re- by describing the meaning of the following phrases.

a) If you are beside your dog, you are ... next to your dog.

If you are bewildered by something, something is ... making you confused.

If Yogi befriends you, he ... makes friends with you.

b) When you depart, you go ... away.

When you take a detour, you go ... a different route than you normally would.

When they dethrone the king, they ... make the king go away.

c) When you eject from the plane, you are thrown... out.

When you erase the message, you ... wipe it out.

When you evade the mosquitoes, you ... move out of their range.

d) When you prepare the meal, you ... get the meal ready before mealtime.

If you predict who will win the race, you ... have an idea before the race of who will win.

You prepay for your ticket when you pay ... ahead of time, before the event.

e) When you return home, you turn ... back.

When you recycle cardboard, you use the cardboard ... again.

When you reprint your report, you print it ... again.

OPTIONAL: Share this supplemental chart before having students read 2.3 “Homophone Read” in Unit 16 for additional review of confusable words.

Homophone Heaven

Because ea and ee are common spellings for /ē/ inside syllables, conditions are ripe for homophone pairs like flea and flee. The best way to learn these is by using the words a lot in both reading and writing.

Here are some of our favorite pairs of confusable words.

- Circle the words and meanings you are already sure of.
- Get ready to read and write these homophones in the next exercises.
